WHY AMERICAN PARTY WAS ORGANIZED

REASON NO. 8.

The leaders of the Mormon church do not desire that Gentiles come to Salt Lake and to Utah as homeseekers. They are only interested in tourists as tourists and money-spenders. They are satisfied to have them visit the Tabernacle, hear the "shingle nail" drop, listen to the misrepresentations of many of the guides, spend their money on souvenirs in which the church leaders get a rake-off, and depart.

There was never a time that these guides occupied their time, or a small part of it, telling of the wonderful resources of Utah and the fine climate of Salt Lake. They are not permitted to do so. They are drilled in falsehood and half-truths that are calculated to lead the visitor astray. Salt Lake's greatness is never exploited.

The American party believes that the thousands of tourists who visit this city each year should be given to understand that there is not a better foundation for a splendid city in all the country than here. The friends of the American party, familiar with the growth of other cities that are far less favored than Salt Lake, believe that the only way to overcome the prejudice against this city is to assure to the country that the rule of any particular church is not over the city—that the American spirit enters into and controls all things public and private.

It is believed that the announcement of an American party triumph will start every American newspaper to predicting a glorious future for Salt Lake. This will attract capital and will stimulate emigration and the two will make the city leap into commercial prominence within a couple of Real estate will increase in value many per cent. All branches of business will prosper. Labor will be in greater demand than ever before. The merchant and the builder, the mechanic and the common laborer, being on the ground, will reap the earliest fruits of the business awakening. Things will hum in Salt Lake if the American party candidates are successful. If either the old parties win there will be the same old lethargythe same old slumber.

Battle today said his real name was Lightfoot and that Watt, who was accompanied by a man describing himself as an equerry of King Edward, met the witness in Hyde park Angust 24 and informed him that the King wished the case to be withdrawn. At Watt's dictation Battle (or Lightfoot) wrote a letter to Watt's lawyers saying he could clear Watt.

Dictated the Evidence.

The latter also dictated the evidence which the witness gave September 22. Battle added that he had received about $200 from Watt, and the equerry was advised to go to Canada and was promised $25,000 and a Government position for life.

Hushed by the King.

Replying to further questions, Battle stid the supposed equerry was introduced as Lord Kinloch. The latter said the case was to be "hushed" by order of the King, who is a friend of Lady Violet Watt. The case was adjourned until October 27.

Given Warm Welcome.

All through southern California the old settlers have been accorded a warm and enthusiastic welcome. They were entertained today as the guests of the Salt Lake railroad, being taken in a special parior car to the beach resorts. Tomorrow they will be honored by a public reception tendered them by the Chamber of Commerce, and Sunday night will leave for their homes.

Senator Fulfills Promise.

In this manner Senator Clark has ful-filled a promise made long before work of construction on the road began. After his engineers had finished the survey for the new road across the deserts of Ne-vada and Utah, and when he saw how closely the proposed line followed the old Mornon trall, he promised his friends among the old ploneers that when the line should be completed they must all make the trip as his guests.

Repudiation Expected.

The manner in which the statements attributed to M. Delcasse were received in England is far from satisfactory and their prompt repudiation in an informal manner by the British Government was what the German Government desired. It is expected that when questioned on the subject the British Government will deny in Parliament the Matin's specific utterances about British offers of milltary aid.

Give Up Cc-Operation. The British Government, it is learned, gave Germany satisfactory assurances last June that no offensive or defensive alliance existed between Great Britain and France. The one thing obvious to the German public is that hope of political co-operation between Germany and France must for the time be given up.

The Foreign office says Germany has no formal communication of an Great Britain on the Matin's state they have been the subject of verbal exchanges between the representatives of the two

CAUSES EMBARRASSMENT.

France and England Interested in Clearing Up the Matter. COLOGNE, Oct. 12.-The Cologne Gazette today prints an inspired dispatch from Berlin, in which the Paris Matin's revelations are discussed. The dispatch notes that the article in the Matin has caused great embarrassment in France and Great Britain, and those countries have a prime interest in the clearing up of the matter. It is evident from the dispatch that the German Government assumes that M. Delcasse believed in good faith that France had Great Britain's promise of military assistance for war with Germany and shaped his policy accordingly. Therefore, the dispatch points out it is impossible to brush the Matin's story saids as chimerical.

War Would Have Resulted. If M. Delcasse was self-deceived, the dispatch says, still the practical consequences would have been the same and war would have resulted from his passionate policy of revenge. M. Delcasse's belief that Great Britain's assistance was piedged formed the basis of his policy, and the attempt made in Great Britain to dismiss the matter as a ridiculous phantasm is insufficient and the story cannot be disposed of in this way.

Is Taken Seriously. The German view, the dispatch adds, is that the story must be taken seriously until the Eritish Government gives out a formal utterance to fully vindicate the position of Great Britain.

BODY AFFORDS DISCOVERY

Catt's Gift to Medical College Not in Vain. NEW YORK, Oct. 12 -What is regarded as a wonderful discovery by the medical profession was made yesterday at the autopsy performed on the body of George William Catt, whose body, in accordance with his will, was taken to the dissecting room of the Cornell and Bellevile hospital medical schools to be dissected to benefit medical and surgical research.

The panereas, which performs the same functions as the gall, supplying the smaller intestine with gastric juices to aid digestion, was found to be decayed, a condition which probably prevailed for many months. It was found to have withered oway to almost nothing, and the surgeons who were present at the autopsy declare there is no other case known of a man living with a withered panereas.

The coffin in which the body was borne to the medical college was destroyed yesterday and the flowers which accompanied it were distributed among the hospital patients. The body will in a few days be cremated. room of the Cornell and Bellevue hospital

IS STILL CHASING WILL-O'-THE-WISPS

This What Morris Administration Is Doing on Water Question.

MISTAKES OF MORRIS WOULD FILL A VOLUME

Ignore Purchase of Necessary Rights, but Buy East Jordan Canal Stock.

The Morris administration was in a considerable state of agitation yesterday over the disclosures made regarding the Knudsen water rights that stand as a bar against the city's taking possession of the water presumed to have been purchased from the farmers of the Big Ditch. Administration apologists attempted to pool-pool the story, claiming that Knudsen's rights are by no means as valuable Hierarch's Paper Smoked Out.

The hierarch's acwapaper, ostensibly a local Republican organ this year, was forced to come out of its hole and serve as an apologist for the alleged Democratic administration of Mayor Morris, even indulging in the yellow journalistic resource of capital letters to give emphasis to the agitation of its mind and the perturbation that exists in the Morris camp.

This smoking out of the hierarch's newspaper also caused more or less agita-tion in the ranks of Lynch's supporters, as indicating the drift of things in politi-co-ecclesiastic circles.

Lynch Supporters Agitated.

What Morris Supporters Assert. Morris supporters are vigorously asserting that $40,000 was set apart in the bond issue for the purchase of the Kaudsen power rights, whereas a few months ago they were asserting that this $40,000 could be used for purchasing the Utah Light and Railway company's alleged rights in Eig Cottonwood, if the worst came to the worst and the Council refused to barter away the city's franchises in exchange for those alleged rights

Hard Road to Travel.

Applogists for the Morris administration assert that Mr. Knudsen has no other rights beyond those under which he operates his flouring mill, notwithstanding the plain showing made by Mr. Knudsen in his statement and the fact that he is actually engaged in constructing his plant for the production of electrical energy. They further assert that if he has any rights there the city can condemn them, which only goes to prove the conclusions drawn by The Tribune, that the Morris administration has a long and rocky road to travel before it can carry out its promise to turn water into the Dig Cottonwood conduit next July.

Knudsen Mill Rights.

City Engineer Riter said yesterday that competent experts had passed on the Kaudson mill rights and declared them to be worth not more than $15,000. He cited an interview had with former City Engineer Kelsey, six years ago, in which Mr. Knudsen said he would sell his mill and water rights to the city for $20,000.

Failed to Exercise Option.

In that interview Mr. Knudsen also said the city would have to exercise the option within sixty days. Coupled with this is within sixty days. Coupled with this is also the fact that Mr. Knudsen hes told representatives of the city within the past year that he would not sell his thirteen shares, used at his flouring mill, for less than $50,000, and he is still of the same mind. Mr. Knudsen also declares that the thirty-two shares of Big Cottonwood water that he filed on the or six years ago, and is now preparing to utilize, are worth twice as much as his other thirteen shares.

Engineer Kelsey Investigated.

Former Engineer Kelsey was aware of these water rights which the Morris administration is trying to ignore, when he was trying to get matters in shape for a proposition to make use of the Big Cottonwood waters. Mr Kelsey, contrary to the policy now being pursued by the Morris administration, went to the bottom of things and endeavored to locate and corral all outstanding water rights.

Overlooked Valuable Data

The Morris administration, on the other hand, has apparently overlooked the valuable data then secured and has blundered along, chazing will-o-the-wisps and buying East Jordan canal stock, while ignoring the matter of securing rights that are absolutely essential to the city's control of the Big Cottonwood water. "The Mistakes of Morris' are beginning to assume the proportions of a book.
